

WEEKLY RAMS NEWSLETTER

Quote of the Week

“Your greatness is not what you have, it’s what you give.”

Art Show Winners

Hats off to the St. Peter School Art Department! Under the guidance of our Art Teacher, Mrs. Alicia Harris, our students’ work made a great showing at the St. John Industrial Student Art Show. Students competed with all schools throughout the Parish and proudly took top honors.

Pictured above, with Mrs. Harris, from left to right is Mackenzie Ory, 1st Place, Drew Aucoin, 2nd Place, Kenley Simon, 3rd Place and Evan Brady, Honorable Mention.

Weekly School Mass: Each Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. our entire student body attends Mass at St. Peter Church. Classes from 3rd Grade to 7th Grade are assigned a Mass where students of that grade volunteer to participate. 4th Grade assist in celebrating this week’s Mass:

- 1st Reading: Makenzie Granier
- Responsorial Psalm: Dominick Hemelt
- Gift Bearers: Katelyn Hebert & Jaiya Bailey
- Intercessions: Kenley Simon & Mackenzie Ory

We invite all family and friends to join us.

School resumes on Monday, November 27

St. Peter School is participating in the Archdiocesan wide, iGiveCatholic Campaign.

This campaign is designed to rally our Catholic communities on iGiveTuesday, a global day of giving.

If you or someone you know would like to give a monetary gift that 100% benefits St. Peter School, simply go to our website at www.stpeterreserve.org and click the iGiveCatholic link. Advanced giving days began on November 10 and run through November 26. iGiveTuesday is November 28.

Lets continue to build upon our founder’s dream of Catholic education and start our children “in life the right way”.

Happy Birthday, Msgr. Eyraud

In honor of our founder’s birthday, our Ram Family will celebrate this day on Monday, November 13, with a cupcake party during morning assembly. Each student will decorate and enjoy their own cupcake. Thanks to our faculty and Administration for donating the necessary cupcakes and supplies.
